Further information for every team...

Home : You will all go home tomorrow Sunday, but we hope that you will keep a kind memory of your trip to Geneva, whatever the score your team did... « The most important is to take part » (Pierre de Coubertin).

Andy Young has been all over the media these days, trying to be sure that they would all come to cover the event. But what he didn't expect was that both the main newspaper and the local TV channel aired interviews of him today. He would much have preferred that they broadcast the final of the competition...

MEET THE TEAM...

Aurèle Muller is going to have a great summer. He was promoted from high school this June and is enjoying long vacations until university starts in October. He will study law. He is also active as a junior team trainer and works for the committee of the CS Chênnois VB, whose top team was Swiss Champion this year.

POSTERS

Many of you asked for posters of the competition. We gave each team all we had left in both sizes (small and big) so you can share them.
